At Kent District Library, everyone belongs. Our doors are open to all, with no expectation of payment. Almost every resource, program and service we offer is entirely free for everyone to attend and use. This is what makes libraries so unique – they're one of the last places where people can come together without cost or obligation.

Whether you're here to borrow books, use a computer, attend a program or simply find a quiet place to think, you are welcome. There are no membership fees, no tickets to buy and no strings attached.

In today's world, where access often depends on ability to pay, KDL stands as a reminder that knowledge, connection and opportunity should be available to all. Everyone deserves the chance to learn, grow and thrive.

So, come on in. Explore. Connect. KDL is here for you.

Warm regards,

You, Me, We: Why We All Need a Friend at Work (and How to Show Up as One!)

by Morag Barrett, Eric Spencer and Ruby Vesely

This book shows how meaningful workplace friendships can boost collaboration, engagement and success while making work more fulfilling. With practical tips and relatable stories, this book is perfect for anyone looking to strengthen team dynamics and thrive in today's often isolating work environments.

– Ashten, Kentwood (Richard L. Root) Branch

I Feel Awful, Thanks

by Lara Pickle

As a millennial, this book hit really close to home. This feels like Inside Out but for adults. This graphic novel beautifully depicts the different primary emotions that people experience, and it demystifies and normalizes seeking help when things feel a bit too overwhelming. It encourages the reader to realize that it is okay to not be happy all the time, and it's okay to admit that things aren't going the way you want them to.

– Tabitha, Wyoming Branch

Bye Forever, I Guess

by Jodi Meadows

Ingrid Ant hates being cold. She finds IRL friends flummoxing. School is rough; she'd rather be reading or gaming online. Sound relatable yet? Here's the twist: Ingrid anonymously manages a popular online account. Only three people know her secret – one being her now ex-best friend, who's already using it against her. I loved seeing other characters advocate for Ingrid and show her what sincere friendship and respecting boundaries look like. I loved the seamless inclusion of cyber safety. And I super loved the cheeky rom-com nod to You've Got Mail!

– Amber, Grandville Branch

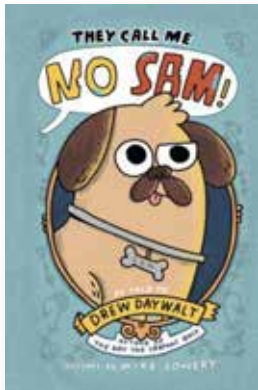

How to Read a Book

by Monica Wood

When three loosely connected people get jumbled together at a bookstore, you get an honest and hopeful story about letting go of guilt, seizing second chances and the power of books to change lives. I love when stories intertwine and you get to see the characters evolve!

– Katie, Gaines Twp. Branch

They Call Me No Sam!

by Drew Daywalt

I don't often actually laugh out loud when reading juvenile fiction, but this book is so wild and funny, I couldn't help myself. This series could be the next Bad Guys!

The Daywalt/Lowery combo is a dream come true. I read it in one sitting in about 30 minutes.

– Michael, Cascade Twp. Branch

This Must Be the Place

by Jesse Rifkin

This is the best music history book I've read in a while. Author Jesse Rifkin lays out the growth of music in New York City chronologically, genre by genre and location by location. He explains how and why various musical styles morphed into others in an engaging way (make sure you read the footnotes). I thought I knew the stories, but this book is so meticulously researched that I learned much more.

– Rebecca, Plainfield Twp. Branch

Never Lie

by Freida McFadden

A newlywed couple gets stranded during a winter storm at an abandoned old house in the middle of nowhere. Strange things begin to happen almost immediately. The chapters alternate between the present-day couple and the past with the original owner, a psychiatrist who was murdered.

– Amber, Krause Memorial (Rockford) Branch

Eight Reasons Why KDL Is the Perfect Spring Break Destination

By Josh Mosey | Digital Marketing Strategist

Panama City Beach, Florida. Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. Kent District Library, Michigan. That's right, we're joining the ranks of the nation's top Spring Break Destinations.

Here's why you should come to the library for your Spring Break:

1

No Sunburns – Enjoy your break without the risk of turning into a lobster. Each of our twenty branches is climate-controlled and perfect for all skin tones.

2

Budget Friendly – Save your money for important things like library swag (visit ShopKDL.org for the coolest gear for library lovers). Your library card gives you access to SO MANY THINGS for FREE.

3

No Packing Required – Forget about overstuffed suitcases and baggage fees. Just bring your library card (and maybe an empty bag to over-stuff with library materials you want to bring home).

4

Endless Adventures – Travel to far-off lands, solve mysteries and meet fascinating characters – all from the comfort of our cozy armchairs.

5

No Sand – If you've ever been to the beach, you know what we're talking about. Library visits traditionally carry a super low chance of sand finding its way into places sand has no right to be.

6

Make Friends Who Live Nearby – With other Spring Break destinations, there's no guarantee that you'll ever see the people you had a great time with again. But the library is a community hub where lifelong connections happen every day.

7

Free Wi-Fi – Stop in. Get connected. Don't worry about using up your data. Ever.

8

All-Ages Fun – We've got something for everyone. Twenty-somethings? Yup. Toddlers? Check. Nonagenarians? You bet. If you exist, we've got you covered.

For Teens' Eyes Only

Hey teens, this one is for you!

By Clare O'Tsuji | Kentwood (Richard L. Root) and Gaines Twp. Branches

Dearest friends, creators and magnificent enigmas, prepare for an epic spring season at KDL. It is filled with good vibes, creativity and just the right amount of chaos. Intrigued? You should be. This is YOUR season.

Do you dream of crafting tales of adventure, betrayal, chilling secrets, that hilarious thing that happened to you in 2nd grade or just an astonishing amount of sarcasm? Then let me introduce you to our NEW Graphic Novel Contest. We want your story, so immortalize your tale in panels. And who knows? You could win fame, glory and awesome prizes. Stay tuned for more information, and in the meantime, start honing your drawing skills and diving into your favorite graphic novels!

Speaking of stories, you won't want to miss what's lurking on our shelves. Maybe you'll lose yourself in the absurd hilarity of Old School by Gordon Korman or plunge headfirst into a sci-fi Power Ranger-esque showdown like Iron Widow by Xiran Jay Zhao. For those brave souls who want to experience the pure rapture of the horrific sort, check out The White Guy Dies First: 13 Scary Stories of Fear and Power. Whatever you're into, we've got you. Seek them out... if you dare.

Need to get out of the house? Our teen programs are here to keep things interesting, from KDL Gaming events that might just crown you a legend to a chill craft session called "Touch Grass" that will make your Pinterest board WEEP with envy. Whatever your vibe, we've got something for you. Check out the teen programming section starting on page 33.

Do you want fame, glory and prizes, but drawing isn't your thing? Don't forget about our Annual Poetry Competition and Slam! Spit your rhymes or craft beautiful verses and enter your poetry by April 1 (not a prank, I promise) at kdl.org/teenpoetry.

For those wondering, Why this hype? Why this letter? Let me explain: KDL is your space to create, explore and just exist in. As the wildly awesome and sometimes delightfully chaotic teen that you are, you bring joy, creativity and fun to the library. Let us pay you back in kind this season.

So, what are you waiting for? Stop on by and be your excellent self, have fun or discover your next obsession.

See you soon! (Unless, of course, your arch-nemesis intercepts this message. In which case, good luck. You're going to need it.)

A Winning Teen Poetry Contest & Slam Entry from 2024

Arrhythmia

wasted so much damn time
on shackling sentimentality
breathing in pollutants and irritants paying attention to the oblivious, which never pays any to me
a lottery ticket scratched off too late tangled up in fate, so tempting attempting not to revert to hate
for myself... am I still worthy of love?
I am still worthy of love
at least I can use that as a consolation when the darkness closes in and I must begin to remend to fend, to fight for every waking breath shaky yet still exhaling
my dreams have not been deserted yet something solid is prevailing the "gift" to forgive mom for the meth
I don't want her death on the doorstep
but if I go down there it's teeth and nails god it's so hard learning how to live,
after your heart fails

Rolling into the Community

The Kent District Library Community Engagement team is dedicated to fostering stronger relationships between KDL and the communities we serve. We believe in bringing the library experience out into communities where people have difficulty reaching our branches and connecting them with KDL resources. We focus on serving people who face barriers due to poverty, violence and trauma, discrimination, health conditions and lack of accessibility. The Community Engagement team operates the Bookmobile, hosts tables at large festival events and presents at community organizations.

Ask for a sticker when you visit the Bookmobile, while supplies last!

The KDL Bookmobile Lobby Stops allow staff to bring a custom collection to the community! Pictured here is Caleb at Grandville Senior Neighbors Center and Hannah M. at Wyoming Senior Center.

Meet the Community Engagement Librarians

Check out our recurring visits for spring on pages 46-47!

Craig Buno is passionate about expanding KDL resources out into the community, creating fun, engaging events and building upon connections. In his free time, he likes to watch soccer and read about history.

Hannah Lewis loves to bring library services to community members facing barriers to access. She specializes in workforce development, Little Free Libraries and county-wide project initiatives. When she's not at the library, you can find Hannah fishing, exploring coffee shops, reading manga and running a community-based book club.

Emily Moss is passionate about meeting community members where they are, particularly through communicating in their native language of Spanish. Emily loves being outside all year round, and you can find her skiing, kayaking and rock climbing in her spare time.

Hannah Moulds is dedicated to using the Bookmobile to bring the joy of the library to communities that face challenges accessing traditional library spaces. As a true extrovert, she loves to ask questions and connect with people where they are at. When she is not on the Bookmobile, Hannah loves to hike, drink coffee, do sudokus and escape to the beach as often as possible.

Caleb Perkins delights in bringing storytime fun to the community. Caleb loves playing ukulele, knitting, crocheting and playing video games in his free time.

FUN FACTS

Getting a Head Start in Literacy

By Kris Locker | Education / Special Needs Program Coordinator

At Head Start for Kent County, we know how important early literacy is in shaping a child's future, especially for kids from low-income families or with special needs. That's why we're dedicated to building a strong foundation in language and literacy throughout our twelve Head Start locations and within our Early Head Start program. Our programs don't just focus on kids; we work with entire families to support lasting educational success.

From the start, we prioritize developing language and literacy skills in young children between the ages of birth to 5 years old. We create rich language environments and use fun, age-appropriate activities like storytelling, music and interactive games to build vocabulary, phonics, writing and print awareness. This early exposure helps set the stage for academic success.

We also believe literacy is a family effort. That's why we provide workshops for parents, tips for reading at home and resources to create learning-friendly environments. By working together, we help families support their children's growth and connect them with community resources.

Our HighScope curriculum weaves literacy into every area of learning. Through research-based strategies like reading, music and dramatic play, we inspire a love of books and build essential skills such as communication and critical thinking. Our educators are highly trained and receive ongoing professional development to stay updated on the best teaching practices.

Every child is unique, and we offer extra support for those who need it, including dual-language learners and children with developmental challenges. We create a nurturing and inclusive space where all children can thrive.

In addition to the work we do within our centers, Head Start for Kent County believes in building strong community connections. We are proud to partner with KDL, which plays a pivotal role in supporting literacy throughout our community. Through this partnership, we offer families access to a wealth of resources, including books, literacy programs and educational events. The library's dedicated staff work closely with our Head Start educators to provide children with enriching reading experiences and to foster a love of books that will last a lifetime. We also encourage families to take part in KDL's various literacy initiatives, ensuring that learning extends beyond the classroom and into the community.

BIG Changes Ahead!

Three KDL Branches Are Renovating or Expanding

Krause Memorial (Rockford) Branch

For over 20 years, patrons have asked for an expansion of the Krause Memorial (Rockford) Branch, which was last updated in 1989. With the area's population nearly doubling since then, the wait is finally over! The planned expansion will more than double the library's size, triple the community room size, add six study rooms, improve accessibility and include a drive-up book return. The City of Rockford has secured $5 million in public and private funds toward the total project costs, estimated to be $11.7 million. On November 5, City of Rockford voters overwhelmingly approved a millage proposal of 1 mill that will provide critical funding for the project. Fundraising efforts are ongoing to cover remaining costs. Construction is expected to begin in fall 2025, with completion by late 2026.

kdl.org/growingkrause

Cascade Twp. Branch

The Cascade Twp. Branch has been providing library service for more than 25 years! As the library celebrates this quarter-century milestone, we recognize that updates are needed to ensure it can continue to serve the community's needs today and well into the future.

A 2018 needs inventory showed:

- Inadequate and outdated lighting
- Damage to external doors
- Worn carpeting, paint and wall coverings
- Roof damage
- Outdated and worn furnishings

The branch is getting a refresh! Funding for this project has been set aside from the expired Cascade Township building and grounds millage. The Cascade Township millage renewal was approved in the November 2024 election to ensure there are operational funds to move forward with these improvements and maintain building upkeep. The Cascade Twp. Branch will operate out of the Wisner Center, located at the branch, through the beginning of June. Updates to the building will continue to occur for three to five years and include a new roof, improving accessibility for patrons and Wisner Center upgrades.

kdl.org/cascade-refresh

Walker Branch

The Walker Branch is currently operating out of a temporary location at 445 Standale Plaza NW in Walker.

The Walker Branch, built in 1991, has served the community well, but the City of Walker and the surrounding area have grown incredibly. The population of Walker has increased 43%, from 17,626 to 25,289, and the rate of growth is rapidly increasing. The library serves as a connecting place, a modern-day town square where everyone gathers to learn and connect. The extreme makeover of the Walker Branch will include:

- 24,000 sq. ft. of state-of-the-art library and community space (increased from 8,898 sq. ft.)
- Large multi-purpose room, hosting up to 250 guests
- eSports facility
- Bright, open space throughout

The renovated Walker Branch is expected to open in late 2026.

kdl.org/walker-makeover

Plant. Garden. Grow. Sustain. . .

KDL's Seed Library offers patrons a variety of sample packets of vegetables, fruits, herbs, grains and flowers to promote sustainability, healthy habits and environmental awareness. This year's One Seed, One State selection, Little Finger Carrot, was donated by the Michigan Seed Library Network. Seeds will be available at all KDL branches and on the Bookmobile starting in early March, while supplies last.
