Walk

Go for a walk and notice and count items on your walk. How many ants or worms did you see? How many cars/flowers/houses did you see? Were some big and some little? Did you see any people? What were they doing?

What this is teaching:

- a) Your child is learning to notice and think about things they see in their everyday life.
- b) You can make a game out of what you see. "The first one to see a yellow coat gets to pick what we eat for lunch today!"
