SING AND POINT

Primary Language

Speak to your child in your primary language!

Some families choose to speak their primary language at home, and let their children learn English when they begin interactions with others at school. When children are immersed in a language they quickly learn it.

What your child is learning: By hearing you talk and by learning to talk in a language you are comfortable with, your child learns to speak with fluency, which will help them be fluent as they begin to read.
